UNIQUE FEATURES

"THE CANADIAN WHO'S WHO"

The only Who's Who of national content to present a

"WHO'S WHO DIRECTORY"

in which 99 per cent of biographies are classified by name under their respective activities. It follows that both the level and extent of reference adequacy in the various fields of endeavour are clearly and frankly disclosed. Thus is eliminated the difficulty—almost insurmountable—when desiring to know the group coverage in national Who's Who reference works. Now, for the first time, it becomes a simple matter for a professional or business man or woman, by consulting the "Who's Who Directory", to ascertain quickly the reference values of this Who's Who as applied to his or her special field.

The only Who's Who of national content to set out the chief active occupation of the biography in capital letters, thereby featuring the title for address purposes and incidentally separating the biography into two lucid sections.

HOW DOES A PERSON GET INTO A WHO'S WHO ?

DO YOU KNOW

that the only Who's Who - in Canada in which no biographical sketch can be paid for is

"THE CANADIAN WHO'S WHO"?

(not illustrated)

Because no monetary or other consideration can effect a listing, no salesmen are employed to solicit full-, half-, quarter-page or photo-sketch space.

"The Canadian Who's Who" lists the top level men and women who are of actual or probable reference interest according to the editors' estimate. To accomplish this end adequately, a listing is not optional with the biography.

"CANADIAN WHO WAS WHO"

A STANDARD DICTIONARY OF CANADIAN BIOGRAPHY

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF: SIR CHARLES G. D. ROBERTS, LL.D., F.R.S.C.
MANAGING EDITOR: A. L. TUNNELL

The first and second volumes of the series, begun in 1934, each contained more than seven hundred biographies of those who died in the period, 1875-1937. Subsequent volumes are to follow until the work is completed, so that there will be available a comprehensive biography of every Canadian, and those significant to Canada, whose achievements deserve rescue from oblivion. Length of biographies in the case of renowned political, scientific and literary figures attains 8,000 to 15,000 words; the average biography is about 3,000 words. Biographies of persons who died since 1875 are being written first to enable the editors to avail themselves, while it is still possble to do so, of contemporary memoirs relating chiefly to those subjects born in the thirties to the sixties of the last century. A primary list of names for inclusion has been widely publicized, and its amplification has proceeded on the basis of sound authority. For each Worthy the editor has had to choose a competent biographer. These contributor-writers number about one hundred. The selection of names which follows illustrates both their eminence and their versatility:

FOREWORD

THIS completely revised edition of "The Canadian Who's Who", containing 7,565 biographies, stems from the publications of "Canadian Men and Women of the Time" edited by the late Henry J. Morgan, LL.D., F.R.S.C., published in 1898 and 1912, together with the first Who's Who—in Canada, "The Canadian Who's Who", issued under the imprint of The Times Publishing Company of London, England, and published at Ottawa in 1910.

Volumes II and III of "The Canadian Who's Who", incorporating "Canadian Men and Women of the Time", were edited jointly by the late Sir Charles G. D. Roberts, LL.D., F.R.S.C., and Arthur L. Tunnell.

Since 1898, the outstanding feature that differentiates these publications from all other works of contemporary biographical reference in Canada on a national scale, is that no payment of any kind whatsoever to secure inclusion or exclusion has been requested or received.

To further advance the reference adequacy of this Work, a new and permanent feature, called "Who's Who Directory", has been added and is fully explained elsewhere. Extension of this Directory beyond its present limitations will appear in future editions.
